

LOCKPORT, KENTUCKY

The Most Elegant DRESS GOODS

Of every variety needed by any of our trade, embrace our line of Dry Goods, and we cordially invite the public to examine the line especially. They have been selected from the best markets, with a view of pleasing the most fastidious taste. Our ladies want to look pretty, and this is right, and every lady recognizes the value of Gents' Furnishings.

A PRETTY DRESS

In addition to this they must have the NOTIONS and GENERAL FURNISHING GOODS that are needed for the toilet. These consist of Bedford Corbels, Tansco Corbels, Finest Henriettas of every color, Cashmere, Albatross, Worsted, French Gingham, Crepons, Dress Gowns, etc. Many other styles too numerous to mention. These goods have been carefully selected from the best markets. There are the Newest and Most Stylish, and from a market not generally represented in this country.

A Pretty Shoe

Is the next necessity. The "Ella," as shown in another column, is the most desirable. We will attend especially to Ladies' Shoes. The "Ella" is "a thing of beauty." The "Stie," "Pard," and others too numerous to mention, will surely please.

MILLINERY.

The SAT is the Growing Beauty

Of a Lady's Outfit, and for these Miss Maggie Eblin has been looking for some time in the city markets. She will again preside over this Department and welcome her many friends and customers as heretofore.

FURNITURE.

Our Buell's Shoes,

As shown in another column, have a reputation and even sales extending all over this country. These shoes range from $1 to $5. In our BUELL'S SAMPLES, we will be able to offer some SPECIAL INCENTIVES IN STYLES that cannot be surpassed in any market.

On Saturday, April 2, 1892,

We Opened up the Best Selected and Finest Display of

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

That we Have Ever Shown!

Having now a convenient, commodious and well arranged house for business, with the advantage of this central location, we feel assured that we can offer to the people of this Green River Country advantages even superior to what we have done in the past.

Our talking man, a very modest man, does not propose to say that we are the "hustlingest" merchants in the world, but he instructs us to say in this announcement that we are giving to this business all the TIME, MUSCLE, MONEY and BRAIN at our command, and if these avail anything in these jostling railroad times, the people shall have the advantage of it. There is no mistake about the proposition, it takes ALL these to make this business profitable to both Merchant and People, and we propose to use Muscle and Brain particularly, instead of "gall" and "brass."

The people want a General Market—a trading point where they can dispose of their merchantable Produce at good prices and where they can buy anything they want, either for common consumption or for the finer and more elegant supplies, at fair prices. If we can offer these, we can expect the trade; if not, we cannot hope for it, and for this reason we appear in the papers; only, however, when we think we have something to say—something that will interest the people.

In this Opening Announcement we make no "Cheap John" promises. We have no faith in this sort of advertising. We want the people to know who we are, where we are, the business we are in, the opportunities we have, and then to understand that we extend a cordial invitation to one and all to "Come to see us;" the rest we leave with them. Thankful for past patronage, we remain Truly,

CLOTHING

Is a SPECIALTY, as our customers will attest. All we ask is that those wanting the MOST STYLISH SUITS, call and look. No charge for looking.

WEDDING SUITS

Ordered and the guaranteed. Childs and Youth Suits a Specialty, in prices ranging from $1.25 to $10. Mothers know the difficulty of finding these little Suits in quantities and styles sufficient to make any selection. Come to see our Clothing. We have some drives in Job Lots at prices that will astonish.

The "ELLA."

Gents' Furnishing Goods

Of every variety, too numerous to mention. In addition to these we have a Fine and New Line of HATS, Nobly and elegant. Our NECKWEAR was purchased direct from a manufactory and embraces every Style, and that, too, clear of jobbers' profits.

To the Farmers

We would say that we have added to our General Line the finest BED ROOM SUITES and

FURNITURE

Generally, also a fine and new variety of COOK STOVES and SADDLERY, which we can furnish cheaper than you can obtain them from the city. Give us a call. Our stock of GROCERIES, TINWARE, HARDWARE, etc., will be more full and complete than ever. Come and examine our line. As heretofore, we have Old Hickory Ware, New Crown Sewing Machines, Oliver Chilled Plows, etc.

Our FERTILIZER Market,

Which is important, is something to which we wish to call especial attention. Formerly we ordered these goods for the people in small lots. The expense, however, having to pay high rates and freights to jobbers and retailers. Now we make the manufacture direct from the factory and ship the same way. In short, we have the market at home. We keep constantly on hand the celebrated "Horse Shoe" brands of Bone Meal and (Saw) Guano, and the "Horse Shoe" for Tobacco, which can be had in large or small lots. Come, or send in orders.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR OFFICE

J. P. STEVENS,
As a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, he solicits the action of the Democratic party.

J. DENHAM HOCKER,
As a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk, he solicits the action of the Democratic party.

D. H. GODEY
As a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, he solicits the action of the Democratic party.

By the Voters of this County:

I am a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk. I submit my name subject to the action of the Democratic party. Should I be nominated, I will make a vigorous campaign for the office. Respectfully, G. L. KIRK.

EXPECT CRACKDOWN at Campbellsburg, Ky., rebelled three times last Friday night and not away with quite a sum of money.

If we do not very much mistake the spirit and temper of Ohio country people, they will not submit another year to the present barbarous system of public roads.

The Owensboro City Court fined a man named Muckelbach three times at one sitting. Certainly why not? How would a man with a name like that, expect to escape?

GOVERNOR BROWN has nominated Messrs. Wey Woodson, of the Owensboro, Missouri; Mr. C. C. McChesney, of Washington county, and Mr. Charles D. Poyntz, of Mason, to be Railroad Commissioners. The list comprises ability and trustworthiness. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Woodson will not give up his work on the newspaper, which he has made one of the best published in the State or in the Mississippi Valley.

The following from the Owensboro Messenger is only a sample of the many good things which the newspapers of the State have said about Miss Lizette Walker since her candidacy for a place on the World's Fair Commission. Space forbids the publication of them all. The Messenger says:

The gifted Miss Lizette Walker, of Hartford, is no exception for one of the places a lady should make for herself in the world's fair, she is young and full of talent who has made a reputation in literature, extending over several States of which her friends are very proud. She is a native of Hartford, and is a special member of a place of which.

ALSO with very poor means of transportation, Hartford has exceedingly bad and expensive telegraph lines. The fact that a telegram to reach Cincinnati must go around by Louisville and through Indiana, at a cost double that of any town having a direct telegraph connection, would seem to suggest a need of reform. Why not extend our present excellent telephone line over the line between Hartford and Cincinnati, and reach the outside world that way? It could be done at slight cost, and would save the cost of building what would be saved on message. Let us extend the telephone.

WORLD'S FAIR APPOINTMENTS.

Gov. Brown's Just Course in the Matter.

Miss Lizette Walker's Claim to a Place as Commissioner—Legislature Protesting and Flirting With the School Book Question.

WILL BETHET APRIL 24, 1892.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 16, 1892.
Gov. Brown this morning sent his communications to the World's Fair Commissioners in the Weekly. They are: Y. F. Allison, W. H. Dunaway, Louisville; J. D. Black, Bardonia; J. J. D. Clark, Christian county. Of these two Messrs. Allison and Clark, are among the most prominent Republicans in the State, and all men of superior culture and ability who will reflect great credit upon the State.

The intelligent voters of this county are repeating our question so often asked and never answered: Why is that tariff reduction on quinine and sugar cheapens those articles as is pronounced by all to be a good thing, while the Republicans argue that a like reduction on quinine and sugar would not be a good thing? If low tariff gives us cheap quinine, why ought we to have cheap clothes, cheap tinware and cheap farming implements? Will the Republicans kindly answer these queries and oblige many a honest inquirer? We just want to know, you know.

IN strong endorsement counts for anything with the Board of Commissioners, Miss Lizette Walker will be one of the most prominent names on Kentucky's World's Fair Commission. Almost the entire delegation in Congress from Kentucky have volunteered most flattering endorsements, while the State Senators and prominent men in all parts of the State and many from other States and ask that she be given the appointment. The Commissioners, however, will hardly ignore so strong a recommendation as Miss Walker puts forth, she will in all human probability be appointed.

ALSO with very poor means of transportation, Hartford has exceedingly bad and expensive telegraph lines. The fact that a telegram to reach Cincinnati must go around by Louisville and through Indiana, at a cost double that of any town having a direct telegraph connection, would seem to suggest a need of reform. Why not extend our present excellent telephone line over the line between Hartford and Cincinnati, and reach the outside world that way? It could be done at slight cost, and would save the cost of building what would be saved on message. Let us extend the telephone.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

THE PATRON'S LETTER.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., April 11.—The following letter from Governor Cleveland was received to-day by a prominent Democrat in this city:

LAKESIDE, N. Y., April 1, 1892.
JAMES H. BROWN, Chattanooga, Tenn.:
My Dear Sir:—I desire to thank you for the receipt of your letter of the 29th inst., which you so kindly sent me, and for the friendly words which you used on that occasion. I am exceedingly gratified to hear that you so fully appreciate the right thing at the right time, and I hope that the delegates will be able to do so. I am sure that you will be frank and I will not say that I do not do so, but I do not do so at the kind things which friends as you say, and I have frequent meetings as to the wisdom of some of the resolutions. I, therefore, am anxious that sentiment and unpopularity should not be the basis of the action, and I should not be frank if I did not say that I do not do so, but I do not do so at the kind things which friends as you say, and I have frequent meetings as to the wisdom of some of the resolutions. I, therefore, am anxious that sentiment and unpopularity should not be the basis of the action, and I should not be frank if I did not say that I do not do so, but I do not do so at the kind things which friends as you say, and I have frequent meetings as to the wisdom of some of the resolutions. TAXES AND PRICES.

The Free Reasoning of the Divines of the Protection Society.

Universal business stagnation has forced down the prices of cotton, wool, iron and other staple articles below the average for many years, and the more reckless protectionist journals, willing to impose upon the credulity of their readers, have ascribed the prevailing cheapness to the operation of the McKinley tariff.

Of this class, evidently, is Mr. J. T. McKim, who writes to The Record from Charlotte, N. C., how much cheaper of an advantage unless it should increase the prices of manufactured goods, and as cotton, wool and iron are foreign products have been concurrent with depreciation here, so the ones who are the victims of their own ignorance.

Under the tariff of 1890 cotton was 18 cents, and says that he has heard "that cotton was 18 cents exclusively in this country of steel, are selling 30 per cent lower than they were on the free list."

Come, Everybody!

SECURE BARGAINS!

RAILROAD STORE

PLOWS.

We have the Latest Wonders in the SINGLE AND DOUBLETREE, all made of Steel—no wood to rot, no oil to come loose, no lagging to bother with and it will last a lifetime. Secure one before they are gone.

THE GRANITE CHILLED PLOW has just been brought out. It is a beauty and deserves all the praise it is receiving. It runs smoothly and is a light draft.

Each plow is guaranteed to do perfect work. Remember the place—Railroad Store, on corner of Union and Market Streets, opposite the Hartford House, Hartford, Conn.</
